Author Denies Garrison Link

Harold Weisberg, author of several books critical of the Warren Commission Report on the Kennedy assassination, Friday termed absurd an allegation that he conspired with the New Orleans district attorney's office to prejudice the minds of prospective jurors.

The allegation was made in a motion for a change of venue filed this week by attorneys for Clay L. Shaw, New Orleans civic leader, who is accused by Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison of plotting the assassination. Shaw is awaiting trial in New Orleans.

Weisberg, here for a series of speaking engagements, said he had never spoken with Garrison until 10 days after the manuscript of his most recent book was on its way to his publisher.
